Dear Sir/Madam:

On March 11th and 12th, 2016, Bali Island School in Sanur, Bali (formerly Bali International School) has the honor of hosting its first East Asia Global Issues Network (GIN) Conference with 400 adult and student participants from schools around Asia. A student-led committee at the Bali Island School is hosting and leading this conference with the full support of the school and many parent volunteers.

The Global Issues Network is a growing network of over 500 international, independent and public schools committed to enabling students to create and lead project-based solutions. The GIN Conference projects focus on addressing global issues in the students' immediate community. In essence, we are learning how to identify, discuss and implement plans that can make both a local and global impact.

We are inviting international guest speakers from different backgrounds and NGO's to focus on 20 Global Issues. Such as the fight against poverty, education for all, Biodiversity, water deficits, reinventing taxation for the 21st century and illegal drugs to name a few.

 Sharing our Humanity	 Sharing our Planet	 Sharing our Rule Book
Massive step-up in the fight against poverty Peacekeeping, conflict prevention, combating terrorism Education for all Global infectious diseases Digital divide Natural disaster prevention and mitigation	Global Warming Biodiversity and ecosystem losses Fisheries depletion Deforestation Water deficits Maritime safety and pollution	Reinventing taxation for the twenty-first century Biotechnology rules Global financial architecture Illegal drugs Trade, investment, and competition rules Intellectual property rights E-commerce rules International labor and migration rules

Many great things have been achieved at past conferences, for example - a school built in Cambodia, research being done for Biogas in the Dominican Republic and healthy food for a low income daycare center in the United States.
